Numbers: Numbers can be found at the most primary level of life and they permeate everything. All of creation is vibrating to a number, including our own voices and the meanings of the words we choose or omit. They are in fact a language – one that is deep, subtle and global, pointing to the interconnectedness of all life and the innate collective intelligence. Numbers are true and they speak with the authority and integrity of the soul. In listening to numbers and learning to hear their messages, you give the soul your ear. In knowing the vocabulary of numbers and their unfolding, natural processes (the laws of nature in fact,) you attune and tune your communication – speaking with clarity, going beneath the surface, striking deep chords. We all know this language intimately. We're speaking it all the time, and yet we have forgotten it...

The course: In this course you will begin to consciously learn the language of numbers, exploring and gathering vocabulary of the 5 personal/impersonal pairs of numbers on 5 evenings. From here we begin to experience the connections as they unfold – the sequences of natural processes that we live through (and how the mind gets stuck in them) every day, so that in the end you have a sense of the whole language, having the skills to go on to increase your fluency in it, with guidance, on your own.

Afterwards: On completion of this course you may be interested in taking it further with a full training on numbers as a powerful tool for counseling and communication. You may also find that knowing numbers illumines your life in many other ways. The applications are as many as there are individuals. Karam Kriya is about self-initiation and self-realisation. Ultimately, it is not another system, but rather points to the order underlying all systems. It is a system to end all systems, a place where the mind can come to rest.

The teachers: Beant Kaur Jo and Beant Singh Hergo are a married couple and both long-term students of Karam Kriya – Applied Numerology. They studied with their teacher and founder of the Karam Kriya School in London, Shiv Charan Singh, in Berlin, completing a 3 year consultancy training in 2005, and have themselves been teaching and giving consultations for more than 16 years between them. Since 2009 they have been teaching as a team. They are both honoured to have the privilege of bringing Karam Kriya to Australia and are looking forward to offering a full training course on Karam Kriya counselling, with an international team of teachers and Shiv Charan Singh, starting 2012.

Karam Kriya is taught in the tradition of Kundalini Yoga but no experience of this is necessary.

Please direct all enquiries and bookings to Beant Kaur. Participants are welcome to test the waters on the first evening before we ask for a commitment for all 5 evenings of the course.
